Biographical or Historical Note

Richard Delano Coleman was born on 9 March 1933 in Sandy Springs, Georgia, which, at the time, was an unincorporated area of Fulton County. Named after Georgia senator Richard B. Russell and former U.S. president Franklin Delano Roosevelt, Coleman went on to lead a life of a proud American. He survived the Great Depression and World War II as a child, served as an infantry officer in the United States Army for two years during the Korean War, and enjoyed spending the majority of his adult life in Roswell, Georgia. Richard's Ramblings is a memoir of Coleman's life dedicated to his descendants.
