Biographical or Historical Note

The Roswell Historic Preservation Commission (HPC) was established shortly after the City of Roswell achieved ownership of Bulloch Hall in 1978. The HPC was established with the mission to protect and preserve the historical and archaeological resources of the 640-acre Roswell Historic District. The Commission is comprised of seven citizen volunteers appointed by the Mayor and the City Council. The current president of the Roswell Historical Society also serves as an ex officio member.

Scope and Content

This collection holds meeting agendas, meeting minutes, and administrative documents for the Roswell Historic Preservation Commission from 1978 to 1987, as well as RHPC documents relating to the Roswell Historic District and Bulloch Hall. Types of documents within this collection include membership lists and correspondence, newsletters, preservation plans, papers of various foundations, and a job description press release. The collection features specific information regarding the historic preservation of Bulloch Hall, including a grant application, a national registration form, financial reports, landscaping plans, and special event announcements.

Organization Note

Items in this collection are organized by record type. Each record type is organized in alphabetical order. This collection is split into three series: (1) Roswell Historic Preservation Commission records, (2) Bulloch Hall records, (3) City of Roswell.
